

Windowobject

JavaScript

Gagan Saini

Window object

The window object is a global object in client-side JavaScript environments like web browsers.

It represents the browser window that contains the DOM & other global objects and functions that are available to JS code running within that window.

Gagan Saini

Properties Included

window.innerHeight & window.innerWidth

Viewport dimensions.

window.location

Current URL information.

window.document

Reference to the document object.

window.navigator

Browser and system information.

window.localStorage & window.sessionStorage

Client-side storage options.

etc...

Gagan Saini

Methods Included

open()

Opens a new browser window or tab.

window.close()

Close the current browser window.

window.setTimeout()

Executes a function after a specified delay.

window.setInterval()

Executes a function repeatedly at specified intervals.

window.print()

Prints the current page.

etc...

Gagan Saini

Events Included

Load Event

When the browser window content completely loaded.

Scroll Event

On browser window scroll (both horizontal & vertical).

Window Resize Event

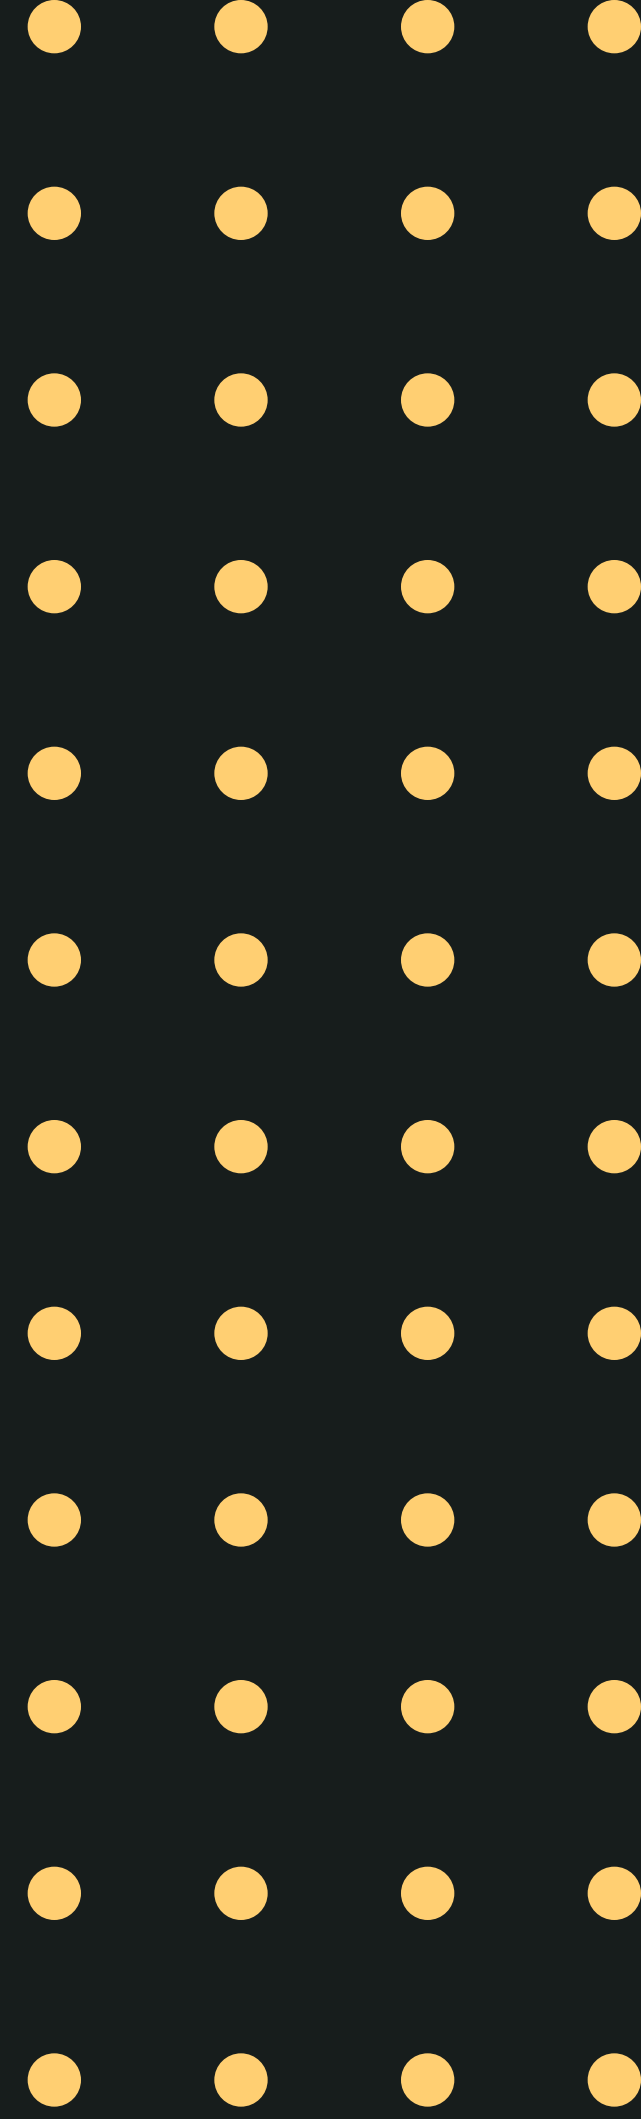

When the browser window is resizing by user.

etc...

Gagan Saini

Repost this to help others!

@Gagan Saini

WEB DEVELOPER